artist statement

I create my work from direct experience. The work will be based on true stories from everyday life, going out. By up questions in art. Want to speak my thoughts from a different perspective. My work likes to allow viewers to ask questions and have different views. Part of the work is the use of artistic text art mixed with abstraction. The works are canvas frames, acrylic color, oil color, and spray street art for young people. I like work that brings people from different perspectives to talk to each other.
